Required Curriculum/Textbook and Course Materials

Required Textbook: There are no required texts for this course because the instructor will provide all readings, which you are expected to read closely and mark up.

Required Course Materials/Supplies: A flash drive and a thesaurus. You will need daily access to the Internet and a computer. I also recommend that you use a jump drive to save your files, and periodically also store your documents drafts to an online cloud. You should also email yourself your drafts periodically so that if all else fails, you have a copy of your draft in your email. Losing your work is NOT an excuse to submit assignments late, and any assignments that are late as a result of technology problems ARE subject to the course late policy.

Minimum Technological Requirements and Skills: A flash drive and a thesaurus. You will need daily access to the Internet and a computer. I also recommend that you use a jump drive to save your files, and periodically also store your documents drafts to an online cloud. You should also email yourself your drafts periodically so that if all else fails, you have a copy of your draft in your email. Losing your work is NOT an excuse to submit assignments late, and any assignments that are late as a result of technology problems ARE subject to the course late policy.

Minimum technological requirements and skills: Students are required to maintain access to D2L via the NFC website and check it consistently. Since this is an online course, all assignments, readings, grades, and announcements are through this site. As such, students will thus need continuous unfettered internet access to complete the course. Students must make arrangements to have access to the internet to fulfill assignments. For example, if an assignment requires watching a video on YouTube, students are expected to be able to access the video. There are various locations that provide internet access, such as NFC (available even in the parking lot), public libraries, and many restaurants. Students will also submit assignments via D2L. I do not accept emailed assignments. In addition, access to a word processor software such as Microsoft Word or Google Docs is necessary. All students have free access to Microsoft Office programs. Students may access these programs via the NFC website. Contact Computer Services with any difficulties with access.

With the heavy use of the internet and word processing software, it is strongly recommended that students utilize a computer not a smartphone. Limitations placed on a student utilizing a smartphone instead of a computer are not considered a legitimate excuse for any difficulties arising during the course. The primary mode of communication outside of D2L is email, so ready access to your NFC GoMail is recommended.

NFC Information and Policy Statements

Academic Honesty

NFC is committed to providing a high-quality educational experience to all students, and students are expected to follow appropriate and honest academic practices. This information is available in the Academic Regulations section of the college catalog at www.nfc.edu. All cases of academic dishonesty will be reported to the Office of Academic Affairs. All cases of academic dishonesty will be reported to the Office of Academic Affairs. Assignments that are plagiarized are subject to receiving a zero.

Instructors use www.turnitin.com to review papers and projects for improper citation and/or plagiarism by comparing each student's report against billions of internet pages, a repository of works submitted to Turnitin in the past, and thousands of academic sources. A comparison document called the Similarity Report details the areas of a student paper that may have been documented incorrectly or used improperly. Refer to instructor's course policy statements for usage details.

Attendance Policy

Regular and consistent attendance facilitates student success. Absences beyond the equivalent of two weeks of class are considered to be excessive and thus may impact a student's course grade. Typically, two weeks of class would be described as follows:

- For a three-credit hour class that meets MW or TR: 4 class meetings (2 weeks).
- For a three-credit hour class that meets once a week for three hours: 2 class meetings (2 weeks).

Students are responsible for material covered during their absence. Refer to instructor makeup policy.

If there is no verifiable participation within the first week of the term, a student will be dropped from the class for non-attendance. This includes classes delivered in face-to-face, online, or hybrid format. See instructor policy.

Textbook Purchases

All required course materials are listed in the Virtual Bookstore tab on NFC's homepage. Course materials purchased through Follett, NFC's only contracted vendor, can be charged against a student's financial aid account. Course materials may also be purchased from any other source with the understanding that these non-Follett purchases cannot be charged against a student's financial aid account.

Used Book Purchases

Students should check the Follett book list found in the Virtual Bookstore tab on NFC's homepage for correct titles and editions. Note: The ISBN listed in Follett may include both the required text and a required access code. When considering purchasing used books, students should be sure the purchase includes the ACCESS CODE in courses where required. If not, the access code must be purchased separately at an additional cost.
